

Cumberland goes exclusive in Mayfair

Cumberland has now completed another exciting project in the Heart of Mayfair on behalf of Chelsfield Partners.

Chelsfield's head office is a grade II listed building on Brook Street in London's exclusive district, Mayfair. The offices, set over five floors were fully refurbished both internally and externally by Cumberland in a project worth around £1.8m. The extensive works which took 14 weeks to complete included:

- A full electrical upgrade of the premises
- Installation of Air Conditioning throughout
- Installation of bespoke joinery, all manufactured to the highest quality in Cumberland's own joinery workshop
- Restoration of the buildings original features
- Internal decoration including marble restoration

Cumberland's team worked closely with one of London's leading design practices; Target Living as well as Jackson Coles who oversaw the project management and quantity surveying. During the development, the teams established a constructive working relationship which contributed to its smooth running and ensured that the entire project was delivered back to Chelsfield Partners on time and on budget.

James Donovan, Cumberland Director said: "This exciting project not only pushed the boundaries in terms of quality but also in speed of delivery. We're delighted with the finish that has been achieved and to have completed yet another project that has exceeded our client's expectations."
